SHARON LANGFELDT, TODAY'S FEATURED ARTIST

I'm a native Coloradoan with deep ancestral roots in the railroads of La Junta, in southeastern Colorado, the plains of Nebraska and west Texas.

I grew up in Boulder, Colorado. I was lucky to have an excellent Girl Scout leader, who, in addition to leading and mentoring by example, took us hiking and camping at every opportunity. I have a deep love of the mountains of Colorado and the west.

I have worked for years in the smooth, slick world of computer technology. Several years ago, I was called back to my roots – called to recapture the other half of who I am – called back to the peace and quiet beauty of our world, and I moved to The Wet Mountain Valley, at the foot of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

With the aid of my camera, I seek to illustrate the rich texture of what gives meaning to my life; to share captured images of the beauty and mystery of our world and to immerse the viewer in the moment of the photo.

Many thanks to the four Kantorei singers who worked with Custer County High School vocal music students in a workshop on Saturday afternoon, May 4.

Thanks to all the people who make the 2012-2013 season possible.
